

Violeta Lopez – Colloquium Seminar – September 12, 2024
MSU FRIB

TITLE: "Art, words, science and the poetry in between"

ABSTRACT: The MSUFCU Arts Power Up Arts Residency will host this fall its second artist, Violeta Lopez. Violeta is an interdisciplinary artist who takes a multimedia approach to her practice, merging analog and digital through visuals, sound and words. The resulting work explores language, literature and science from a poetic perspective. For the first colloquium of the year we invite everyone to join us in welcoming Violeta and learning about her experiences and her plans for interacting with physicists at MSU and creating her own unique art work. The MSUFCU Arts Power Up Arts Residency Program is a collaboration between the Facility for Rare Isotope Beams (FRIB), the MSU Museum CoLab Studio, and the STEAMpower Project. It is generously funded by an endowment from the Michigan State University Federal Credit Union (MSUFCU), and administered by University Arts and Collections.
