

Sean Liddick – Colloquium Seminar – April 11, 2024
MSU

Title:

FRIB Experimental Science Highlights

Abstract:

With the start of the FRIB science program in 2022, we have entered a new era of nuclear science and applications. This talk is the second of a two-part series that explores the compelling science questions being addressed at FRIB. In this talk, the overall science program and some recent experimental science highlights from FRIB will be presented.