

Michelangelo Mangano – HEP Seminar – March 9, 2021
CERN

Title: The physics motivation and potential of a future 100 TeV pp collider

Abstract: For the abstract: will this be a talk just for particle physicists, or something broader for the full physics dept? Should I put this in the context of the overall FCC programme, or start assuming everyone knows what I'm talking about and just focus on the details of the current studies of the 100 TeV potential?